

Course code	Course title	Responsible lecturer
FoNC-622	Natural resource policy and conflict management
Contents and goals of qualification	Contents: Introduction to public policy; natural resource Management policy; objectives of natural resource policy; concerns and steps of policy formulation and decision making; implementation and enforcement; policy evaluation; policy making models, and stakeholder responsibility in policy; principles, values and ethics in policy making; policy analysis; Interdisciplinary nature of Natural resource policy;. Conflict of interest in Natural resource management, property rights, conflict resolution; conventions; Reviewing of existing sectorial policies, laws and regulations of Ethiopia, Review of Forest policy and regulations, international conventions related to forest, wildlife, protected areas, and climate; Climate Resilient Green Economy strategy of Ethiopia. Goals of qualification: Graduates will be able to analyses natural resource policy and stakeholders; plan and design workable conflict management mechanisms. Students will able to understand forest and nature conservation policy of the country and can advice policy makers.
Modes of teaching and learning	The course comprises: 3 hr/wk Lecture
Applicability	Compulsory

Credits and assessment	3 (3+0) Credit hour; Seminar paper (30%), Article/policy review (20%), Written exam (50%)
Text books	Nusadh Ali (2002) National and International Environmental policies and Laws NRM ad sustainable development in India Recent peer reviewed journal papers published in the Ethiopian context shall be used for seminars